The Load Off

.calibre

these private fantasies of share and profit when did the market turn this decadentdesired expertise claiming the orbit since when are takeovers this deviant[chorus:] what can you afford ?
i don't wanna get my mind off things i don't wanna take the load off i wanna give this wrath a face on how the power sets the pace i will never get my mind off things i will never take the load offahh yeah the whitewash - a warpath compassion's - a bloodbath the new wave - comes on a billboard latitude - is what you can afford[chorus]we should be handling the trigger with exemplary stealth and speed or find we're caught inside the engines of their so collective needwe should debate whatever we negate it keeps us locked in our submissive state wearing the uniform we're fucking clones while the enforcer keeps the gatethe assembly - just cause in their accession the mission statement - in their compassionwe're just a party for the rich[chorus]

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/