Dreadnaught

John Brown's Body

So we're finally united here at the crossroads of our fears Now the voice of god is everywhere in our heads and in our earsTurn the world into an enemy and believe in me I will make you seeI will never grant you ground remember me and why you all bow down to a metal forge dominion Silent in a heart of steel the voice that speaks so any man can feel You believe in our dominionNow the terror is the other we and their unholy deity It's time to boost the notoriety of our great society
