

Elizabeth: II. Requiem for the Innocent

Kamelot

Mother can you hold me one more time again
Whisper "I still love you" in my ear
Mother did you lie
Would you tell me why
There is something deeper that I fear Justify the malice I portray
Daggers in the darkness find your way
When the moon is full and piercing bright
Drench me with your innocence tonight Don't you wanna die
Walk beside me evermore
Don't you feel alive
Like you've never felt before Visions of the future un-profound and blurred
I have passed the point of no return Justify the malice I portray
Let me keep my beauty for one more day
When the moon is full and piercing bright
Drench me in your innocence tonight Don't you wanna die
Walk beside me evermore
Don't you feel alive
Like you've never felt before Don't you wanna die
Souls transcending, silver shine
Don't you feel alive
Your blood preserves my place in time
