A Drinking Song

Helldorado

Come all you outlaws and restless riders and gather round here all you outsiders Come fill your glasses and raise them high and let us drink and not be dryNo more, no never again, no never again
No more, no never again, no never againThe dark is rising and the day keeps falling
Our fire is burning and the wind keeps calling
So fill your glasses and prepare to fight
Let's all drink up and ride tonightNo more, no never again, no never again
No more, no never again, no never again
