Street Life

Jaya the Cat

They said go left and you went right
And now what once was a life has just become a fight
In this street life
What once you called stars have become your roofWho once was a brother, now just a stranger to you
Passing faces have become just marks
Corner to corner, you travel through the dark
In this street life.

Lyrics provided by
https://damnlyrics.com/