

Street Life

Jaya the Cat

They said go left and you went right

And now what once was a life has just become a fight

    In this street life

What once you called stars have become your roofWho once was a brother, now just a stranger to you

    Passing faces have become just marks

    Corner to corner, you travel through the dark

    In this street life.

Lyrics provided by

<https://damlyrics.com/>