Love Will Heal

PJ Anderson

Who knew there'd be a day where we'd have to fight for this
To be the voice of righteousness
To speak for those unheard
For all our beating hearts began in the same love
No one should take away from us
The simple right to live

Hear our voice
We are one
We will fight until we've won
Love will heal every heart
We will fight until we've won
Until we've won

Our history is burdened by all the violence
The hatred and defiance
Love for which we're made
But we are here to be the ears for the broken
The voice for those unspoken
The future can be peace

Hear our voice
We are one
We will fight until we've won
Love will heal every heart
We will fight until we've won
Until we've won

Only love can change hearts
Let your peace be the spark
Only love can change hearts
Let your peace be the spark
Only love can change hearts
Let your peace be the spark

Hear our voice
We are one
We will fight until we've won
Love will heal every heart
We will fight we will fight

Hear our voice
We are one
We will fight until we've won
Love will heal every heart
We will fight until we've won
Until we've won
Oh until we've won

Today is the day where we will fight for this
Be the voice of righteousness
Speak for those unheard
