In Your Eyes

StorySide:B

I have wandered through the darkness
I have felt the need to stray
But you were always there
In my fall a summer's day
I've been taken by distractions
Diluted satisfactions
But you were always there
To light my wayAnd in Your eyes, I see the light
And with one smile, my soul takes flight
And in Your eyes, I see the light
And when You cry, Your tears are mineI have struggled and fought for air
Suffocated on my knees
But you were always there
There to rescue me
Through the ignorant resistance
Broken wings and allAnd you were always there
To break my fallYour love I can't denyAnd in Your eyes, I see the light
And with one smile, my soul takes flight
And in Your eyes, I see the light
And when You cry, Your tears are mine
