Broken Heart

Falling Up

In this moment synchronized inside Words that paint a legacy of life A different picture will unfold

A healing finds it's way through Sifted times, I take another breath
With an ambiance of nothing left

So heal my heart, rain down your love

These waters bring me back to lifeFather, healer

Deliver me from broken love

Stay here closer

Let me hear your voice of loveThere's a healing calling from the wind There's a healer waiting to begin

In timeless places, traced and faceless

Will I learn to let goTake me to the heights where love controls

Far away from home but feels so close

This empty heart of mine

Will fall inside and bring me back to lifeFather, healer

Deliver me from broken love

Stay here closer

Let me hear your voice of loveYou can hold

You can mend

You can heal

You can break, I hold there's something etched this wayFather, healer

Deliver me from broken love

Stay here closer

Let me hear your voice of loveSavior, redeemer

Bring me to this place of peace

Jesus, garden

My broken heart is so in need
