Crocker's Favorite Song

Guided By Voices

everybodies got their head up high everybody should be touching the sky but you know you never nevercan go down so you slow down and you walk awayshe says good morning to you and you look away she asks you just what to do you don't know what to say but well what can be done, and what can be done for you I'll tell you now, where will you go
when nothings laid out for you
