

Just Pleasing You

Emmylou Harris & Rodney Crowell

I used to get drunk all by myself
I wanted to be somebody else
And I had a mask inside my mind
That I hid behindI'm on the point of no return
I crossed a bridge I could not burn
And turned down a road that led straight to
Just pleasing youIf just pleasing you
Is the last thing I'll do
I'll go to my grave, yeah
Nobody's slaveMost of the friends I used to know
Gave up a long, long time ago
I blew through their lives a train off track
And never looked backAnd I made each love a nasty joke
Every last chance of vow I broke
Been down on my knees surrender to
Just pleasing youIf just pleasing you
Is the last thing I'll do
They'll lay me to rest
Knowing I've had the bestI used to get drunk all by myself
Now I've set that old pain up on the shelf
And each shining day I'll rise up to Just pleasing youAnd each shining day I'll rise up to Just pleasing youJust pleasing you
Just pleasing you

Lyrics provided by
<https://damlyrics.com/>