

My Life Before Today

House of Fools

Sooner or later this will fall apart
It takes more than science to save a failing heart
I wanted to keep you and hide you from the sun but no one could reach you You say I'm a black hole Singularity
My own supernova
A blazing blind catastrophe
And for once I was a star
A long time before that Somebody's sun But enough of these pointless noises
Enough of just counting down
This is not a test
If love is not the answer then maybe I misunderstood Oh the question
Oh there must be some way out of this We stand in a circle hand in hand
There's talk of a comet
Over moon and land
The sand has run out of the glass
We stand in a circle
We stand in a line But enough of these pointless noises
Enough of just counting down
This is not a test
If hope is not the answer then maybe I misunderstood Oh the question
Because there must be some way
I want it so so..
There's always some way Well enough of these final nothings
There's no time to reconsider
So love was not the answer but maybe I misunderstood the question
Because it must be somewhere
I read it somewhere
There's always some way
