Immune

Lethal

You knew I wouldn't answer
When you called me yesterday
For it's getting so much harder
To carry on this wayDid you hear what happened
When I tried to make the news
I thought that we could change the world
No one wanted toJust for a moment, I had to turn away
And find another point of view
A playback was refusedHalfway through a short life
I tried to stop in mid flight
Condemned to touch the ground
I found myself aloneThere was only one exit
My flight was not detected
I just have to rewrite
My restless serenadesJust for a moment, I had to turn away
Who was supposed to feel the shame
When no one would take the blameIt doesn't feel the same
I feel no pain
The world doesn't bother me
I'm immuneJust like a prisoner
I found escape through dreaming
This world keeps turning me
With fate like carouselsI sat in my empty room
Sent out my distress signals
They never could be heard
The walls were closing inJust for a moment, I had to turn away
Who was supposed to feel the shame
When no one would take the blameIt doesn't feel the same
I feel no pain
The world doesn't bother me
I'm immuneIt doesn't feel the same
I feel no pain
The world doesn't bother me
I'm immuneJust for a moment, I had to turn away
Who was supposed to feel the shame
When no one would take the blameIt doesn't feel the same
I feel no pain
The world doesn't bother me
I'm immuneIt doesn't feel the same

I feel no pain
The world doesn't bother me
I'm immuneIt doesn't feel the same
I feel no pain
The world doesn't bother me
I'm immuneYou knew I wouldn't answer
When you called me yesterday
