

Ether Song

Turin Brakes

In the ether, in the ether's air
Would you be there? would you be my friend?
In the morning, in the morning rain
In the binary of a data stream On an airplane, on a radio
All around me in the ether's flow Under an orange sun
Running from what I've become
What am I running from? You can't take a photograph of it at night
It lives in the code of a firefly buzzing
It vibrates through brickwalls, keeping their time
It cuddles the creeping chaos coming

Songwriters

KNIGHTS, OLIVER/PARIDJANIAN, GALE Published by

Lyrics Â© EMI Music Publishing

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnlyrics.com/>