Lipstick Lies

Oceans Divide

You've gotta admit
You paint a pretty picture
No one would ever suspect
You're so adept at the art
I hear the lonely lover sigh
You hide behind cosmetic eyes
Kiss them off with lipstick liesLipstick lies won't hide the truth
And they won't keep you waterproof
The victim of your vanityYou're the Picasso of pain
A fantasy in flesh tone
And though you're never the same
You're never far from the mark
Now and then you close your eyes
To see the heartbreak in disguise
Kiss them off with lipstick liesLipstick lies won't hide the truth
And they won't keep you waterproof
The victim of your vanity
You see just what you want to see
Who's to blame?
Love is love by any name
Who's to blame?Lipstick lies won't hide the truth
And they won't keep you waterproof
The victim of your vanity
You see just what you want to see
Who's to blame?
Love is love by any nameWho's to blame?
Love is love by any name
Who's to blame?
Love is love by any name
Who's to blame?
