

Lipstick Lies

Oceans Divide

 You've gotta admit
 You paint a pretty picture
 No one would ever suspect
 You're so adept at the art
 I hear the lonely lover sigh
 You hide behind cosmetic eyes
Kiss them off with lipstick liesLipstick lies won't hide the truth
 And they won't keep you waterproof
 The victim of your vanityYou're the Picasso of pain
 A fantasy in flesh tone
 And though you're never the same
 You're never far from the mark
 Now and then you close your eyes
 To see the heartbreak in disguise
Kiss them off with lipstick liesLipstick lies won't hide the truth
 And they won't keep you waterproof
 The victim of your vanity
 You see just what you want to see
 Who's to blame?
 Love is love by any name
Who's to blame?Lipstick lies won't hide the truth
 And they won't keep you waterproof
 The victim of your vanity
 You see just what you want to see
 Who's to blame?
 Love is love by any nameWho's to blame?
 Love is love by any name
 Who's to blame?
 Love is love by any name
 Who's to blame?
