Idlewild

You look worn out
More and more each day
With every step and every page
You look worn out
More and more each day
With every step and every page
Croft, dated back
To the beginning of the century
It's the beginning of the century
Inside your croft
Dated back
To the beginning of the century
It's the beginning of the century
What are you looking for?
You'll never get close
You definitely don't know
You're not original
What are you looking for?
You'll never get close
You definitely don't know
You definitely don't know
What you're about
You look worn out
More and more each day
Every step and every page
And you're still worn out
More and more each day
There's every way to
Croft, dated back
To the beginning of the century
It's the beginning of the century
Inside your croft
Dated back
To the beginning of the century
It's the beginning of the century
What are you looking for?
You'll never get close
You definitely don't know
You're not original
What are you looking for?
You'll never get close
You definitely don't know
You definitely don't know
What you're about
What are you looking for?

You'll never get close
You definitely don't know
You're not original
What are you looking for?
You'll never get close
