Slowly Fading Fast

No Use For A Name

Everyday is passing quickly like a bullet train
And time is not impressed with your complaints
Try moving faster just to get ahead of everyone your misconceived beliefs are killing you faster than anyoneIt's been so long
I can't remember getting kicked around like that
If we all follow our dreams to live the easier it seems
But the truth we are slowly fading fastSimple minds are hard to please
When denying the fact your life is not a test
You have to let it go before you get it backI'ts been so long
I can't remember getting kicked around like that
If we all follow our dreams to live the easier it seems
But the truth we are slowly fading fastI don't recall any time that you did it by yourself
I look at a photograph of you and everyone that you take is a fake
And if this ride is so long then i just haven't seen the proof
The picture isn't you

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/