This One Goes Out To...

Streetlight Manifesto

Staring out the window in somebody’s pick up truck
Well, I never mind the boredom 'cause I use I for a crutch
Just to get me to that plane, it’'s a different state of sane
And every time I try to change, I always end out quite the same
Thinking back to happier days
Everyone was ignorant and all the kids behaved
But me, my friends and the ice cream man
That was our existence, that was our clan
This one goes out to the friends I never had
Hey, I don’'t understand
(But I’’d like to anyway)
Hey, I don’'t understand
(But I like it anyway)
Hey, I don’'t understand
(But I like you anyway)
I don’'t understand
Hey, I don’'t understand
I don’'t understand
Hey, I don’'t understand
Shelter in the city, we decided to go in
And I gave a man some money to buy us heroin
The homeless man returned and he gave me back a dime
He said, "“Put it in your sock my friend and save it for another time"
Lessons are learned and later unlearned
And if he knew what he knows now, well, he could rule the world
But I’'m not one to judge, what happened yesterday
'Cause I got me, I got myself, my future is at stake
This one goes out to the friends I never had
Hey, I don’'t understand
(But I’’d like to anyway)
Hey, I don’'t understand
(But I like it anyway)
Hey, I don’'t understand
(But I like you anyway)
I don’'t understand
Hey, I don’'t understand
I don’'t understand
Hey, I don’'t understand
Shelter in the city we decided to go in

And I gave a man some money to buy us heroin
But the homeless man returned and he gave me back a dime
“Put it in your sock, my friend and save it for another time
Lessons are learned and later unlearned
If he knew what he knows now, well he could rule the world
But I’'m not one to judge, what happened yesterday
'Cause I got me, I got myself, my future is at stake
This one goes out to the friends I never had
Hey, I don’’t understand
(But I’’d like to anyway)
Hey, I don’’t understand
(But I like it anyway)
Hey, I don,'t understand
(But I like you anyway)
I don’’t understand
I don’’t understand
I don’’t understand
Hey, I don’’t understand
I don’’t understand
I don’’t understand
I don’’t understand
I don’’t understand
