

Leisure Bees

Tacocat

The world is a hive
Work hard until you die
But who is a queen
And is it worth the brave routine
How can you find yourself
Pining away for somebody else
How far can you fly
When you're living the life Give us six dollar wine
Wear your pajamas 'till the end of time
Travel the world and never stop
But still come out on top Take your time because It's your time to take
And the values that you want
Are the ones that you can make
If honey is power
Who cares, cares about that
Sometimes uncomfortable
Is better than a doormat
The world is a hive
Work hard until you die
Don't you feel brave
Escape from the tin cave Give us six dollar wine
Wear your pajamas 'till the end of time
Travel the world and never stop
But still come out on top Take your time because
It's your time to take
And the values that you want
Are the ones that you can make
So long won't
Be on your tombstone
So long won't
Be on your tombstone
So long won't
Be on your tombstone
So long won't
Be on your tombstone
Honey is power
Who cares, cares about that
Sometimes uncomfortable
Is better than a doormat Sleep in and take the bus

Explain to your parents
Why you're childless
Friends mean more than anything
Never feel the need to sting
Take your time because
Are the ones that you can make
