Marriage

D.L. Hughley

I know you said, "You're ready", but I'm not ready
See marriage don't change, nothing but your name
Unless it's real love, through the sunshine and the rain
For better or for worse, girl, this is not a game
See marriage don't change, nothing but your name
Now I've been trying to make you understand
That I'm proud to be with you and I'm happy I'm your man
I know your moms and your pops wanna see you
Walking down that aisle asking what's up
'Cause it's been awhile, 'bout seven years now
We've been together, baby, but girl, I'm still not ready
Take it easy, don't push me away, don't want to make a mistake
I wanna do thing right and my paper right
Wanna be 100 percent is with you, I wanna spend my life
Marriage don't change, nothing but your name
Unless it's real love, through the sunshine and the rain
For better or for worse, girl, this is not a game
See marriage don't change, nothing but your name
Marriage don't change, nothing but your name
Unless it's real love, through the joy and through the pain
It's more than a ceremony, more than a wedding ring
A marriage won't change, nothing but your name
Ever since you caught that bouquet at your friends wedding day
I've been under pressure, babe
(I've been under pressure, girl)
Now you window shop for wedding gowns and wedding bands
Pickin' out your bridesmaids and the theme song for the reception
I know you love me, baby, but girl, I'm still not ready

It's so many thing's such you don't know about me
Even though we've been together for so long
We got a long way to go, so girl let's take it slow
Marriage don't change, nothing but your name
Unless it's real love, through the sunshine and the rain
For better or for worse, girl, this is not a game
See marriage don't change, nothing but your name
Marriage don't change, nothing but your name
Unless it's real love, through the joy and through the pain
It's more than a ceremony, more than a wedding ring

A marriage won't change, nothing but your name
It's not that I can't see myself a life with you
Girl, I ain't going nowhere, let's take our time
This ain't something that you just jump into
And marriage don't change, no
Marriage don't change, nothing but your name
Unless it's real love, through the sunshine and the rain
For better or for worse, girl, this is not a game
See marriage don't change, nothing but your name
Marriage don't change, nothing but your name
Unless it's real love, through the joy and through the pain
It's more than a ceremony, more than a wedding ring
A marriage won't change, nothing but your name
See marriage don't change, nothing but your name
Unless it's real love, through the sunshine and the rain
For better or for worse, girl, this is not a game
See marriage don't change, nothing but your name

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/