All The Stars

Leona Naess

You killed the 80's with another love song
And well the 90's I'm happy they're gone
Oh baby now that you've joined the ranks
All I can say is farewell and thanksSorry to use you in such vain
But that's what hurting can do
And it's a shame
That pretty face will loose it's charm
I have the eye and you have the calm
The roads are paved with gold[Chorus]
All the stars are out tonight
Bleeding down their northern lights
Northern star, I don't know who you are
Northern star, I don't know who you areOh daddy I thought it was you
And knowing this I would have walked right through
You only loved me in every way that you should
And I am a fool to believe you did anything but good
