

No Respect (feat. Ghetts)

The Qemists

Ah, Yo,
You think I need a shoulder to cry on when I can cry on my own
I am a lone ranger I' ma die on my own
You see them acting like I need them
They ain't deep, But they're demons
This is dungeons, dragons, pagans and heathens
Even old friends scheming I can't believe it
Messages have been sent it's like they can't receive it
So I'm kept in suspense
As long as my heart is beating I won't even let them attempt
So don't forget when they showed you no respect
When they showed you no respect
When they showed you no respect
No Respect
They showed you no respect
What kept you driven then
What kept you going in the ring
And getting back up to fight for a different end
They showed you no respect
What kept you driven then
What kept you going in the ring
And getting back up to fight for a different end Needs I ain't short of There isn't a way to make pea's I haven't thought of eyes talk cheap cause when I speak calls cost
Now they wanna see me on a leash like a bulldog
I kiss me teeth, I walk off
Try and see it from this point of view
You really think your chosen when they point at you It's true
But sometimes what you love can destroy you too so go ahead
Show me a human that has been loyal to, you know the rest
So don't forget when they showed you no respect
When they showed you no respect
When they showed you no respect
No Respect
They showed you no respect
What kept you driven then
What kept you going in the ring
And getting back up to fight for a different end
They showed you no respect

What kept you driven then
What kept you going in the ring
And getting back up to fight for a different end
So understand I never had the upper hand
I stood in places where they could never come and stand
I looked in faces they couldn't read
I took the grave shift for the grand's
So don't forget when they showed you no respect
When they showed you no respect
When they showed you no respect
No Respect They showed you no respect
What kept you driven then
What kept you going in the ring
And getting back up to fight for a different end
They showed you no respect
What kept you driven then
What kept you going in the ring
And getting back up to fight for a different end
