

Choke (Early Version)

Lagwagon

Choke choke pride
Still I could only wait for you to decide
Tear it all apart
You break my heart Why don't you follow through Follow through
And the day ends
A so called friend A drunken bed
How could you with
Why would you
All of them No one owns you
Just keep me hanging here
Tell me you need me dear
Tell me you're sure I shouldn't fear Lies lies lies
Choke choke please
Have another drink on me
My love humiliation I gave you every chance to leave
And you stayed just long enough
To bury me
As I understand what no one can see I stop
And all these words seem selfish
And anger you
And none of it is true But all of them confess until I choke
I tough I knew a true love
I used to think you really cared
I used to think I knew true innocence I thought that you were that I know you too well when you lie
I hope you choke on them
And see for me For me
And all these words seem selfish and
Anger you
And you were always true
Am I the only want that hears you lie?
