

God Loves a River

Darden Smith

I hear your love has gone away
Left you feeling blue
Don't you know that one fine day
Love will come to youWhen the tears are over
All the stories have been told
Step into the sun
You might find the oneGod loves a river
Even if that river never hits the seaFairy tales to rummage sales
We all love a dream
Life is so damn messy
Love is so uncleanYou cannot hold a hand
That is a thousand miles away
Best to let it go
For reasons we may never knowGod loves a river
Even if that river never
I say that God loves a river
Even if that river never hits the seaGod must love a river
Even if that river never
I say that God loves a river
Even if that river never hits the sea
