

Tied Down

Jaymes Young

These days the lovers trade their places
Dancing all around each other's chairs
I can see the numbness on their faces
Jealousy fills up their hearts in pairs
So please could I be selfish with your body?
'Cause I don't think I could share you with nobody Oh, when I have you
I'm gonna brand you with my lips
And all of the world will know that you're mine now
We'll never lose faith
'Cause we'll never forget this taste
My love has the power to keep the tide down
Oh, I'll get you tied down, tied down
Oh, I'll get you tied down, tied down Oh, late at night you'll hear the screaming echo
But we all pretend we never heard the cries in the daytime
Don't you worry, my touch won't leave you hollow
I'll never gonna let you change your mind Oh, when I have you
I'm gonna brand you with my lips
And all of the world will know that you're mine now
We'll never lose faith
'Cause we'll never forget this taste
My love has the power to keep your tied down, oh Oh, I'll get you tied down, tied down
Oh, I'll get you tied down, tied down
Oh, I'll get you tied down, tied, ohh
Oh, I'll get you tied down, tied down
Don't be afraid to leave your mark
Give me the scars to remind me
Just how good you are (how good you are)
And if your faith turns into dark
Pull me closer and know
That it's enough to keep you tied down Oh, I'll get you tied down, tied down
Oh, I'll get you tied down, tied down
Oh, I'll get you tied down, tied down
Oh, I'll get you tied down, tied down Tied down
Oh

Song Discussions is protected by U.S. Patent 9401941. Other patents pending.

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>