Relative's Eyes

The Most Serene Republic

These words, I write them

No regard to the ink

I can formulate ideas and thoughts

Before I can thinkAll we need is a war boys

Or everything is right here

Nothing to fight forWhat does the brain compare with the heart?

It's a good day to find a surprise

But luckily enough, everyday I find

One in your personal spaceBishop, keep to the skies, keep to the skies

Bishop, keep to the skies, keep to the skiesWhat does the brain compare with the heart?

What does the brain compare with the heart?

What does the brain compare with the heart?

What does the brain compare with the heart?
