

A Million Pieces

Emmy Rossum

I am not yours
Shiver cold, I stand alone
Feel the slow dissolve
Black clouds rolling overhead
Part of me is gone
Like water now within my hands
You're nothing I can hold
As every second slips away
I've nothing left to show
I'm under without you now
I'm in a million pieces
Under, I'm not myself
If you say I am not yours
Porcelain white, the storm sets in
Unraveling my life
Cut my hands on broken glass
Holding on too tight (And I'm barely)
I'm barely held with taken breath
Am I still alive?
(Barely breathing)
This heavy heart is caving in under this goodbye
I'm under without you now
I'm in a million pieces
Under, I'm not myself
If you say I am not yours
Under, without you now
Just echoes in the silence
Under, I'm nowhere now
If you say I am not yours
Why can't I just let go?
Won't you leave my head alone?
Please no more, I can't take anymore going around
(Around)
I'm getting nowhere fast, here I am
Under, without you now
I'm in a million pieces
Under, I'm not myself
If you say I am not yours
Why can't I just let go?
Won't you leave my head alone?
Just echoes in the silence
Please no more, I can't take anymore going around
(Around)
I'm getting nowhere fast
(If you say I am not yours) Why can't I just let go?
Won't you leave my head alone?
Please no more going around
(Around)

I'm getting nowhere fast
Under, without you now
I'm in a million pieces
I'm nowhere now
If you say I am not yours
