Little Joe

Soundgarden

Little Joe, run for the border Leave your home, leave your mother and father Go to where the reptiles roam On the side of the border that is your homeLittle Joe, eyes of your lover Look back on you as you run for cover Though sticks and fire, sticks and fire Wont break your bones, it is a lieLittle Joe, just like your father Your eyes will water, your guts will splatter Though sticks and fire, sticks and fire Wont break your bones, it is a lieLittle Joe, run for the border Leave your home, leave your mother and father Go to where the reptiles roam Theyre waiting for you, little JoeLittle Joe, run for the border Leave your home, leave your mother and father Go to where the reptiles roam On the side of the border that is your homeLittle Joe, just like your father Your eyes will water, your guts will splatter Though sticks and fire Wont break your bones, it is a lie
