

King In The Sun

Darkseed

I visioned one more better day
To chase the fever away
Before the sun was to move onDreams less complete
Love left alone
Until the breaking of dawn
From Eden we have flownAnd I've come to realize each passing day
That we blindly threw our bliss away
Our bliss awayHow long must I fall before I can rise?
For I am the king in the sun - here I come!
How far must I walk to touch the sky?
But still I come undoneAm I dead, am I alive?
Show me the essence of life
Before I am to move onThe single truth I couldn't scorn
Arrogance made me forlorn
And still a king was bornAnd I've come to realize each passing day
That we blindly threw our bliss away
Our bliss awayHow long must I fall before I can rise?
For I am the king in the sun - here I come!
How far must I walk to touch the sky?
But still I come undoneWalk with me through the storm
The chill dies away
And my message will bloomI am king in the sun
I won't surrender in the presence of doomFor I have light
And no more gloom circles my soulBut I've come to realize this final day
That joy and hope at last have come my way!
Have come my wayHow long must I fall before I can rise?
For I am the king in the sun - here I come!
How far must I walk to touch the sky?
But still I come undone

Song Discussions is protected by U.S. Patent 9401941. Other patents pending.

Lyrics provided by
<https://damnlrics.com/>