Back To Us

Kina Grannis

all the birds are singing in the whisper winds everybody's listening and the sun is shining like today won't end nothing here is missinglooking over looking under looking through what we'll find every time we do what we doand we laugh
and we cry
and we live our lives
and we love
and it comes back to uswe carve into the tree our history of love with dreams of ever after we can sit beneath the bows and trace the lines and add another chapterlooking outside looking inside
looking away
what we'll find each and every time we say that we'll stayand we laugh
and we cry
and it comes back to us
