

Waiting for Wednesday

Lisa Loeb & Nine Stories

Waiting for Wednesday, my stomach doesn't hurt enough
Pain always is the sign
Waiting for Wednesday, no proof of mine exists
So I don't have to take it back Don't want to show you good-bye
Show you good-bye
Show you good-bye
Show you good-bye But you're waiting for Wednesday
Waiting for Wednesday
Waiting for Wednesday
I pray you'll put me on the spot
I do believe you, that you'll love me, that you'll leave me
Don't want to show you good-bye
Show you good-bye What will I do when you come near to me?
You'll put me on the spot
You've been doing this a long, long time
Not that you're better than me, but that you do it a lot Now I'm waiting for Wednesday
Waiting for Wednesday
Waiting for Wednesday
I'm waiting for Wednesday I'm gonna show you good-bye
Show you good-bye
Show you good-bye
Show you good-bye Now I'm waiting for Wednesday, you're back from out of town
The west is dry, your mind is clear and I don't want to be here
I don't want to be here, I don't want to be here, to show you good-bye
And I'm waiting for Wednesday
Waiting for Wednesday
I'm waiting for Wednesday
To show you good-bye I don't want to be here
(Waiting for Wednesday)
Waiting for Wednesday
(To show you good-bye)
(Wednesday)
To show you good-bye
(Waiting for Wednesday) I don't want to be here
(Waiting for Wednesday)
I don't want to be here
(Waiting for Wednesday)
(To show you good-bye)
To show you good-bye

Show you good-bye

(Wednesday)

I don't want to be here Waiting for Wednesday

To show you good-bye

To show you good-bye

Song Discussions is protected by U.S. Patent 9401941. Other patents pending.

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnyrics.com/>