

No Man Alive

Tall Heights

You know I think it was born of the feeling that I got when I left from your home Then it turned into something appealing I couldn't let it alone Who'd have known that I'd ever be reeling simply from being on my own Oh I craved and I craved and I craved and I craved To get back that feeling I'd known But the way you were looking that evening when you showed me out to your door Oh I felt like we'd both been caught stealing from the garden your parents had grown It's a long way from Earth to the heavens but I didn't care anymore I just waited and waited and waited and waited until I could get you alone Who ever heard such a voice of excitement?
No man alive had ever been there
Staking a claim on an uncharted island
Oooh it was too much to bear
No man alive had ever been there Well we didn't make it together but I didn't go it alone See the feeling was no longer tethered to the sweetheart it used to call home Now we're spread like a blanket of heather covering soil and stone Oh it bid me to lay with a bird of a feather and then to set out on my own Who ever heard such a voice of excitement?
No man alive had ever been there
Staking a claim on an uncharted island
Oooh it was too much to bear
No man alive had ever been there Who ever heard such a voice of excitement?
No man alive had ever been there
Staking a claim on an uncharted island
Oooh it was too much to bear
No man alive had ever been there I think it was born of the feeling that I got when I left from your home Oh I waited and waited and waited and waited to get back that feeling I'd known
