

The Switch

From Autumn to Ashes

Darkness chokes my emotions, your breath numbs my soul
Stand with me, by my side, take my hand and lead the way
Out from the shadows into the real world
Show me how to live a life owned by regretMy blood runs cold, lifeless in shame
Now is the time to right the wrong
Inside my veins, poison words lie
Within a mind as guilty as yoursTake what is left inside me
I've no use for it
Stained with thoughts uncaring
Open and let me inShow your world, deceit
Let me live as you
Need not to feel
Emotions rain downDrowned by innocence, thoughts escape me
Harsh words spit blindly and open paths of life
Take all that is me, a lifeless somber soul
Curse the day you wake as solace sets in
I press my fist to the pillows wishing it was your teethDarkness chokes my emotions, your breath numbs my soul
Stand with me, by my side
Take my hand and lead the way
Out from the shadows into my worldMy right soul is not for you to own
My right soul is not for you to own
My right soul is not for you to own
My soul is not for you to ownI will not live life to see your face, your face anymore
