

Broken, Not Beaten

Minority 905

Verse 1:

Broken into pieces

And feeling like the whole world is crashing down

Searching for a reason

To silence all the whispers from my doubts

Chorus:

Light a fire in my heart

I'm so quick to fall apart

Can I put myself together and

Just pick up the pieces?

I'm only broken

Verse 2:

They're counting me out again

But they're not the only ones

That I want to prove wrong

It's been so damn long

Since I've proven anything to myself

I won't let them win

Chorus 2:

Light a fire in my heart

I'm so quick to fall apart

Can I put myself together and

Just pick up the pieces?

Turned my life upside down

I keep falling to the ground

But this time I'll get up again

This won't be the end

I'm only broken

Bridge:

Hanging on to pride

Like a martyr cries as they clutch to their faith

Don't give up the fight

There's still a spark inside

There will be another day

Another day

Another day

Final Chorus:

Light a fire in my heart
I'm so quick to fall apart
Can I put myself together and
 Just pick up the pieces?
Turned my life upside down
I keep falling to the ground
But this time I'll get up again
 This won't be the end
I'm only broken, not beaten.
