

Lowdown And Lonesome

Randy Houser

Well I ain't never been to Folsom
But I've damn sure done my Time
Tryin' to please a Woman
Tryin' to walk the LineWhen she washed her hands of our love
I went right straight down the Drain
Straight down the tubes with the booze and blues
Where the boozin' losers hangNow I'm Lowdown and Lonesome, but I feel right at home
Cuz I done grown accustomed, to sinkin' like a stone
Since I hit rock bottom, I've been high as I can be Ever since that woman, put that Lowdown and Lonesome on meHere on this Whiskey river Ain't no paddle, ain't no boat and this Ninety-proof I'm clinging to been keepin' me afloatWell they say I use to give a damn,
But that was long ago
Back before she took our love and blew it full of holesLeft me Lowdown and Lonesome, but I feel right at home
Cuz I done grown accustomed, to sinkin' like a stone
Since I hit rock bottom, I've been high as I can be Ever since that woman, put that Lowdown and Lonesome on meBartender keeps her picture on the wall here just in case
I ever can't remember how I wound up in this placeI'm Lowdown and Lonesome, but I feel right at home
Cuz I done grown accustomed, to sinkin' like a stone
Since I hit rock bottom, I've been high as I can be Ever since that woman, put that Lowdown and Lonesome on me
She put that Lowdown and Lonesome on me.
