Eriel

Dio

Now, that my dreams have gone dead
I see them burning in the fire
Just like the words that I've said
Ashes turned to ashes once again
Look for a sign in the air
A light that dances in the sky
Maybe you'll see it somewhere
Ohh, shining like a diamond
Promising that hope will never die
I might know the answer
Well, it's back there in my brain
Someday soon I'll be rising again

Higher than the sun
I have been father and son
I cry for children of the night
Just because tears have begun
Beware of quiet voices
Thunder comes from silence, I am light
Ohh, look for a sign, is it me?
No, don't believe with only eyes
Speak to the blind 'cause they see
Truth is just a circle, spinning round
Until it meets the lies then dies
