

About Falling

Say Anything

The tide rolls by and I wonder why I felt inclined to try
My starry eyes were sacrificed, the sea divides
But I don't wanna get lost in the ocean
I don't wanna get lost in the ocean now And as our single climbs the charts
I feed on the virgin blood from your bleeding heart
With my pants around my ankles play my part, I built the ark
But I don't wanna get lost in the ocean
Earth starts spinning around to the motion of That I don't really even care if I'm alone now, whoa, whoa
And I don't really give a damn about falling in love, falling in love
Body burdened by my heavy heart of stone now, whoa, whoa
And I don't really give a damn about falling in love Alright, alright
Alright, alright And I don't really even care if I'm alone now
Their flesh is sustenance, I cackle as I prey upon the weak and poor
I have no feeling and this prison is a home
I have no heart, I sold my soul
And I don't really even care if you're listening I don't wanna get lost in the ocean
I don't wanna get lost in the ocean now And I don't really even care if I'm alone now, whoa, whoa
And I don't really give a damn about falling in love, falling in love
Body burdened by my heavy heart of stone now, whoa, whoa
And I don't really give a damn about falling in love Why won't you wait for me?
Why aren't you waiting for me?
Why won't you wait for me?
Why aren't you waiting for me? Why won't you wait for me?
Why aren't you waiting for me?
Why won't you wait for me?
Why aren't you waiting for me?
