Sickness in my mind has taken hold of me
It cast a spell on everyone in my family
Release me from this frame of mindI spend so much time trying to keep myself sane
Because of that, I come off the rails anywayI can't afford to feel like thisMy mental health only treats itself
I wanna be in the body of someone elseMy mental health only treats itself
Put me in the body of someone elseI am stuck in the skin of someone I don't know
Release the devil lurking inside my soul
The demons in my head are building a home
And they won't let go
They won't let goThey say that the cause is not clearly understood
I'll carry on holding hope and love
Drowning in the dark, I can't forget
Being baptised in rivers of regret
Will I be the one that finds a way
When my wings are wrapped in chains?My mental health only treats itself
I wanna be in the body of someone elseMy mental health only treats itself
Put me in the body of someone elseI am stuck in the skin of someone I don't know
Release the devil lurking inside my soul
The demons in my head are building a home
And they won't let go
They won't let goThey say that the cause is not clearly understood
I'll carry on holding hope and love
Drowning in the dark, I can't forget
Being baptised in rivers of regret
Will I be the one that finds a way
When my wings are wrapped in chains?I am stuck in the skin of someone I don't know
Release the devil lurking inside my soul
The demons in my head are building a home
They won't let go
This is a remedy for the ruptured
For those of us who have suffered
Don't give up, don't give up
There's so much in yourself to discover
This is a remedy for the ruptured
For those of us who have suffered
Don't give up, don't give up
There's so much in yourself to discover
