

Anything Goes

Randy Houser

Normally this time of night you wouldn't find me here
I'd be reaching for a good night kiss instead of one more beer
I'd never take a second look at the blonde across the bar
Much less invite her over and let things go this far
But anything goes when every thing's gone
You ain't around to give a damn whether I do right or wrong
So bring it on, anything goes when every thing's gone
Another morning after, a crazy night before
I'm searchin' for my blue jeans on a stranger's bedroom floor
Well, shouldn't I feel guilty? Well, I don't feel a thing
I'd wake her up and say goodbye but I can't recall her name
But anything goes when every thing's gone
You ain't around to give a damn whether I do right or wrong
So bring it on, anything goes when every thing's gone
If you'd have left a single thread for me to hold on to I'd have one good reason not to do the things I do
But anything goes when every thing's gone
You ain't around to give a damn whether I do right or wrong
So bring it on, anything goes when every thing's gone
Anything goes, anything goes when every thing's gone
