

Mirrors

Alise Joste

I simply cannot recognize this face looking straight back at me though it seems so familiar as if I had seen it a million times before and the vicious cycle never ends it spins around until it bends and then it starts all over again and the words you constantly repeat I cannot help but wonder what do they really mean the have lost all the power in me and I simply do not believe up and down my twisted spine reaching deep for my hidden scars
and it hurts so bad
