Truth

Sidsel Endresen

Truth is a relative thing Always adjustable
to reality
and little is just so
Just so

Truth is my neglected child
So unembraceable
for any length of time she's always wanting
I know
I know

Truth is to highly priced Takes away the thrill of illusion
my moonshine
the pretty parts
my loverhyme
Every crutch and cushion that may soften the impact of life and so with truth

i make my compromise
