

Tonight Looks Good On You

Jason Aldean

You ain't got a dress that I don't like
You ain't got a pair of jeans that don't fit you just right
There's not a minute in the day
That you don't knock me out, you don't blow me away
But girl now that this sun's gone down
Woah whoah
Lookin' at you right here and now, baby
Something 'bout that southern sky
Sittin' back behind that moon
It goes perfect with your eyes
Girl tonight looks good on you
There's something 'bout the way you're smilin'
Making them stars fall right on cue
I just gotta tell you baby
Tonight looks good on you
I can taste the midnight on your lips
Makes me just wanna lean in for another kiss
Wind blowin' your hair around
Girl it makes me wanna lay you down
You've been beautiful a million times
But I've never seen ya look like this
Something 'bout that southern sky
Sittin' back behind that moon
It goes perfect with your eyes
Girl tonight looks good on you
Something 'bout the way you're smilin'
Making them stars fall right on cue
I just gotta tell you baby
Tonight looks good on you
It looks so good on your skin
I don't ever, no I never
I don't ever, ever want it to end
Baby
Something 'bout that southern sky
Sittin' back behind that moon
It goes perfect with your eyes
Girl tonight looks good on you
Something 'bout the way you're smilin'
Making them stars fall right on cue
I just gotta tell you baby
Tonight looks good on you
Tonight looks good on you
I just gotta tell you baby
You look at the park, good at the bar
There's something 'bout beneath these stars
You look good at the house, a good at the car
You lookin' so good anywhere you are
Tonight, tonight looks good on you

Tonight looks good on you
I just gotta tell ya baby
Yeah
