Perfect Way to Start

Craig Aven

I guess Iâ€™ll have to wait
To hold you in my arms
But Godâ€™s knows how Iâ€™ve held you in my heart

It hurts to think that it may be a while Before we see how beautiful you are

And you may not know
But all our kids have songs
And though youâ€™ve flown away for now
Daddyâ€™s still gonna write you on

Usually lullabies
Donâ€™t make mommies and daddies cry
But weâ€™re both sad and overjoyed
To know that Jesus holds you tight
Baby you made us proud
We smile just thinking about
How you left and
Your first steps will be on Holy Ground
Be still, my heart
Heavenâ€™s a perfect way to start

I have to say
Iâ€™m fighting jealousy â€˜Cause the angels get to Teach you how to sing

And mommy had your room all ready
With shades of blue and green
But she knows nothing can compare
To all the things youâ€™ve seen

What a sweet sweet day itâ€™s gonna be
When you play with your brothers and sisters
Together on golden streets

Usually lullabies
Donâ€™t make mommies and daddies cry

But weâ€™re both sad and overjoyed
To know that Jesus holds you tight
Baby you made us proud
We smile just thinking about
How you left and
Your first steps will be on Holy Ground
Be still, my heart
Heavenâ€™s a perfect way to start

Usually lullabies
Donâ€™t make mommies and daddies cry
But weâ€™re sad and overjoyed
To know that Jesus holds you tight
Baby you made us proud
We smile just thinking about
How you left and
Your first steps will be on Holy Ground
Be still, my heart
Be still, my heart
Be still, my heart
Heavenâ€™s a perfect way to start

Lyrics Submitted by HeartOnFire

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/