

Have to Know

Matt Pond PA

I felt lucky to be lied to by you
You could always show me your darkness, deep blue
It's strange how much, I don't have to know
And it's strange how much, I don't have to know
It feels like our hearts can't keep still
Let's give each other mindless thrills
It's strange how much, I don't have to know
And it's strange how much, I don't have to know
You're the only one that turns me around
To the stereo sound of the raindrops coming down
You're the only one that turns me around
To the stereo sound of the raindrops coming down
It feels like our hearts can't keep still
Let's give each other mindless thrills
Overthrow me in the August wind
Overthrow me when autumn begins
Overthrow me when autumn begins
I felt lucky to be lied to by you
You could always show me your darkness, deep blue, deep blue
It's strange how much, I don't have to know
And it's strange how much, I don't have to know
(To the stereo sound of the raindrops coming down)
And it's strange how much, I don't have to know
(To the stereo sound of the raindrops coming down)
And it's strange how much, I don't have to know
(To the stereo sound of the raindrops coming down)
