

Embers Burn

Kate Martin

I was lost in the snow, open sky, forest floor
I was caught in a stare, in this room, eye to eye
I was lost in the snow, open sky, let me in, let me in
Embers burn, we belong to the night

When the sky looks like that, you can see your silhouette
Ah my foes and oh my friends, you give me a lovely
A lovely light, a lovely light
Embers burn, we belong to the night

Everything old is new, hunt that bitch, shoot that moon
Cling to me for your life, let's make plans then get down
When they don't work out
They never work out
No, I never follow through
Embers burn, we belong to the night

When your blood runs cold, you'll belong to the night
To my friends and foes, we belong to the night
And to the one I love, you belong to the night
