Everyday Life

Jonathan Jeremiah

Maybe this world is a broken mirror...
Reality in reverse...
Maybe it's just a shadow...
Of a parallel universe, I don't knowWhy do I want to go there?
Why do I really care?
Why should I climb a mountain?
Find your way, if you dare.There's a universal language, I shall learn to speak
Maybe then I will find, the answers that I seek
And I will fly to higher ground, high above the clouds
See the stars up closer watch the world go round...A universal language, we can learn to speak
Talk with the creator, no more hide and seek
Global understanding, an end to all the strife
Seems to me the only challenge that we have... is everyday life
