You Not Me

Claro Intelecto

Being around you is driving me crazy
Watching you run is making me lazyYou're trying to buy a place in my head
Telling me lines I've already read
Speaking my name, you're tryin' to confuse me
Say it again, you're starting to lose meThat's alright, I'm okay, it happens every single day
It's all the same but I'm not blindIt's all about you, not me
It's all about the things that you're expecting me to be
There's not enough time to live
And all that you're expecting me to giveIt's all about you, not me
It's all about you, not meYou're building my prison brick by brick
Eating your words is making me sickYou get what you want 'cause nothing is sacred
You're reading my mind and leaving me naked
You say I gotta give before I receive it
One of these days I'll believe itIt's all about you, not me
It's all about the things that you're expecting me to be
There's not enough time to live
And all that you're expecting me to giveIt's all about you, not me
It's all about you, not meThat's alright, I'm okay, it happens every single day
It's all the same but I'm not blindIt's all about you, not me
It's all about the things that you're expecting me to be
There's not enough time to live
And all that you're expecting me to giveIt's all about you, not me
It's all about you, not me
It's all about you, not me

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/