

When The Night Falls Quiet

Birds Of Tokyō

We are cast out
We are facing cold connections
Blindsided
When the ash clouded our vision
In a war between many
So few had won their placement
And I knew that it mattered
When lines formed and ties were broken

Oh when the night falls quiet
You're fearing that the wars begun
'Cause we're all in this riot
The sirens and bells have sung
Don't spend your last day waiting
Feeling you're the only one
'Cause we're all in this riot
We riot as one

Our horizon
Is a picture card disaster
When the light faded
And the ink ran like a river
If we pause for one second
To catch our own reflection
We'd be caught in the middle
With no time to find forgiveness

Oh when the night falls quiet
You're fearing that the wars begun
'Cause we're all in this riot
The sirens and bells have sung
Don't spend your last day waiting
Feeling you're the only one
'Cause we're all in this riot
We riot as one

On the front line
I can hear a faint rehearsal
Of the last play

Where the young cry role reversal

    Oh when the night falls quiet
    You're fearing that the wars begun
        'Cause we're all in this riot
    The sirens and bells have sung
    Don't spend your last day waiting
        Fearing you're the only one
        'Cause we're all in this riot
    We riot as one

---

Lyrics powered by lyrics.tancode.com

written by IAN PATRICK BERNEY, GLENN MICHAEL SARANGAPANY, ADAM PETER WESTON, ADAM JOHN SPARK, IAN LEWIS KENNY
Lyrics © BMG RIGHTS MANAGEMENT US, LLC

Lyrics provided by <https://damnlyrics.com/>