Champion

Clark Beckham

You fly and you fall
You try and you fail
But still you keep going
You crash and you stall
You sink till you sail
'Cause you never know when

The tides gonna turn
The winds gonna change
And we're gonna make it
The world's gonna learn
And remember our names
It's bend not breaking

Through blood and tears dry
'Cause tonight we come alive

We are the sons of a promise dream
Daughters of hope, we will not give up
They say we're broke and they say we're weak
But strong beats a heart of a champion

'Cause we've got the heart of a champion

Through blood and tears dry
With a fire in our eyes
'Cause tonight we come alive

We are the sons of a promise dream
Daughters of hope, we will not give up
They say we're broke and they say we're weak
But strong beats a heart of a champion

We gonna say, but we better not tell
We crawl, we walk, until we run
We're gonna fight, gonna hold our ground
We got the heart of a champion
Oh, we got the heart of a champion
